CELEBRATING 10TH EVENT BY BISOUL PROMOTIONS

WHAT THE FRIGGIN BISOUL FUCK?

"Art nights of a dark nature"
is how we parade ourselves.
The brainchild of DJ NecroGool (www.malcolmcallus.com),
a metalhead with a love
for anything extreme, and DJ Swan (www.gicyberstores.com), a goth with a love of seeing people have fun, which in turn translates into controlling (punishing maybe?) Gool just when it is "too much", Bisoul Promotions was spawned forth to disgust
the sweet candy world in 1999.

Art nights of a dark nature

Event organisers from the island of Malta with a soft spot to explore the dark side of art, we have to date organised 10 events crossing varied fields like air-brush body painting, holographic presentations, middle-age to cyberwear fashion shows, post-apocalyptic media merged with industrial poetry, fun for all (at least the most pervert ones, but that still makes a big percentage of our crowd :-)) - live Barbies & Action Men sleaze shows on stage, film noire, spooky theatre, BDSM education, photo expos, varied animations, and more, all accompanied by an aura of different dark forms of music, both live on stage & from our DJ booth, from classical music & soundtracks, crossing synth-pop & 80s wave, to the hardest of metal, EBM & darkcore gabba!!!

This calendar is here to share all this with you members of our www..... the wicked world of weirdness!! And to all those who increasingly click onto our www..... the cute webspace www.bisoulpromotions.tk This presentation is interactive. More events to come, but first read this.....

We being a non-profit organisation investing any small income to finance & improve its own future events for its own dear niche of people, we got a day job to live with, and hence time is our worst enemy.

We therefore constantly need helpers to manage the amount of workload each event entails. While we appreciate all those who compliment & support our work, as much as we hate to say this, we need helpers to continue running Bisoul Promotions. We care a lot about the fun our customers have at our parties and we would rather do nothing than something half-ass.

Of course, this being the crooked world it is, we still get people who beg to differ to the above as if they know better, so to all these empty vessels who like making useless sound, if you really support underground music, you are free to join us and see how hard this is. Otherwise just shoot your cracked brain up & go fart somewhere else thank you!!! As Bisoul Promotions has always been that organisation in Malta that despite all tribulations (and you all know how many of them there are) has managed to constantly bring together different underground cultures together while introducing others. The secret? We LOVE what we do, and do it with PASSION!!!!

Hence we are not saying it is the end, but when is the next step depends on you!!!

The current situation with Bisoul Promotions is that NecroGool moved to Hamburg, Germany and simply we need to find someone (or more than one if it is too much to handle for one) to do certain work, for which one needs to live in Malta to carry. This behind-the-scenes workload mostly involves calling here & there, reminding people about this & that (easy work if you love working with people, yet understand & respect deadlines and ensure people who work with you meet up to them). Besides, most of the work will still be done via email from Germany as after all the wires bring us closer as just one global village.

However, to call people from Germany time & time again just to say "hi sweet, did you open your email or are you still laying in the sun?" is something that increases our costs, and hence to be avoided so our events stay affordable to our paying customers. (N.B to all foreigners reading this: wages in Malta are cheap & hence sadly not all the public understands costs & entertainment service fees. Ask this to any of the many high quality underground music bands there are - links from banners at Bisoul Promotions links page)

So as simple as abc, if you can meet deadlines, have good written English and a REGULAR email connection, we wanna suck your blood lol!!! Kidding apart, chosen applicants are rewarded, the more you work to help Bisoul, the better the reward. Reason why is easy - the better the distribution of work = the lesser the workload on each = the more motivated team would be to serve YOU at future events = YOU ENJOY PARTIES MORE, MORE PEOPLE ATTEND, ENTRANCE FEES ARE FURTHER & PROPORTIONALLY REDUCED!!!

Thanks in advance and looking forward to have anyone with a commitment to our patrons on board. Contact bisoul@onlinerock.com

Meanwhile, enjoy this calendar in pdf version. Although we would have liked a printed version ourselves, we never promised one, so judging by the low amount of people who voted the Bisoul Calendar related poll and/or posted at the forum threads (like a 1-2% of the total hits per day) we had no choice. The amounts were just too low to take risks at a time when we are going through our worst ever personal financial situations, so a BIG THANKS goes to all Bisoul Babes for having understood this, and to some of them who encouraged Bisoul to push this calendar project to its desired end.

People change. Expectations change. Bisoul changes - we are just the reaction to our public's actions.

And with that said, we introduce our new monicker.....

REPULSIVE, DISPLEASING... YET SWEET

Spawned forth to disgust the sweet candy world, or to add some candy to this disgusting world?

Whatever we do, we do it to please, yet once again, one cannot please everyone alike. Hence why even the process to choose these 12 astounding forms of Eve that shall accompany you through 2006 was sadly not immune to some bitter talk about some of the participating babes (& boy - who joined just for the joke of it all). Nevertheless, all is well that ends well, and we hence welcome you to here enjoy the thumbnails of the participating babes who did not make it to the Top 12, in no particular order as they all deserve an applause. Comment about them and other topics (like advertising your own events, recommending albums & online radios, etc) at <http://pub2.bravenet.com/forum/108121366>

Some comments might be repulsive, others displeasing.... but at all times it is nice to be sweet. Do try to keep that positive energy flowing when you use our guestbook, or our forum at www.bisoulpromotions.tk, because as 2nd placed Bisoul Babe Jehanne from Germany puts it: "I think there's lot of heartblood in this organisation :) and it should be supported!"

Malta's state of entertainment missing so much a platform to promote the dark alternatives, our respect for alternative people with alternative ideas cannot but be overstated. To this effect, while thanking all past contributors, we constantly would like to hear from anyone who got an idea which he/she thinks may be a treat to the accepted, a challenge to the norm. Bisoul is here for you, email us or use the forum!

We would also like to thank our lifeline, our regular patrons for whom we continue to do this with love & dedication!!! Feel free to join our mailing list to keep abreast of news as it happens.

here are some words from the Bisoul Babes themselves about Oliver's work for Bisoul Promotions.

- Put together rather well :) I love the scrolling sponsors & general look of it all - Geeky Fem, Canada
- can't think of one thing they could change about it - Neroli, England
- good informative and interactive website for the dark-minded, with cool stuff like pictures, poems, event news, a forum and so on. - Lady Cyberia, the Netherlands
- the website is nice and the layout is very friendly and functional - it shows brains and consideration for those using the site for the first time ever! - Lady Atropos, USA
- very informative, it looks awesome and I know I'll be spending more time here in the future! - Aggatho, Iceland
- Cracks the living shit out of most sites out there!!! - Farsott, Germany
- contains a lot of information, and is efficient in passing it on to the viewers - Astaroth, USA
- I like the Bisoul website, especially its colours and its clearness. The pictures show that Bisoul events seem to be great fun. - Gwendoline, Germany
- impressive, the graphics fit the gothic mood almost perfectly and the layout is easy to understand. - Deotriese, Scotland

One Lil Miss Morbid (Miss January) went further to probe:
"If I say that I like the website, will your webmaster pay for my flight to Malta hehe? :P"

Yet in all fairness, Brit p!nk!e nailed it out in a nutshell:
"Website rocks, thanks to us babes of course!!!"

A final thanks to all door & stall staff, all participating bands, artists, DJs, photographers, videographers, all artists who allowed us to use their artwork for our flyers, etc. (apologies if we forgot anyone).
